Black Loyalty.

LET THE TRUTH OF HISTORY BE PRESERVED.

Nigh a million of lives we have spent,
And three billions of dollars or more,
That each fetter in twain shall be rent.
And the slave-horn be heard never more;
Full six years we have given to the Black,
And the thing was undoubtedly right—
Now suppose, just to alter the tack,
We devote half an hour to the White.

When the South in its mad hour of pride
At Fort Sumter let drive the first shot,
Neck and heels our poor Sambo was tied,
And the North held one end of the knot;
But our hold we let go at the sound,
For both hands we required in the fight—
And the war for the Black was then found
Quite a tough job of work for the White.

Well, we fought—aye, for four years we fought,
Pouring out lavish treasure and life;
Did the Black then arise as he ought, [knife?
Cleaving northward with torch and with
All his masters were far from his track,
Under Johnston and Lee in the fight;
There was nothing to hold the Black back
From assisting his champion, the White.

Did he aid us when bleeding we stood
To chase from him slavery's dreams,
Or to Lee sent he clothing and food,
Harness, powder, equipments and teams;
We all know that in one single State
A revolt would have ended the fight—
So no more of their "loyalty" prate,
For the Black rebs were worse than the White.

The White rebels came with a cheer,
Their bayonets aslant and aglow;
While the Black rebels slunk in the rear,
Assisting (and freely) our foe;
Phillips, Sumner, and men of that school,
May click-clatter from morning till night—
But if Black or White rebels must rule,
Then, by Heaven! count me in for the White!

It would sicken a dog, this vile cant
That we hear of "black loyalty" now—
And I notice the twaddlers who rant
On the subject were far from the row;
But since cold has been Lee's latest gun,
And since Johnston stacked arms after fight,
We are told "by Black valor we won"—
'Tis all humbug to laurel the White!

To the Black rebel glory and power,
To the White rebel chains and disgrace!
Oh madness and worse, rules the hour,
We are false to faith, wisdon and race!
So my heart with you, Longstreet and Hill,
Johnston and Lee—every man in the fight—
You were rebels, and bad ones, but still
You share my misfortnne—you're White!

[Miles O'Reilly.

A Confession.

There's a cynical circle who do what they can
To malign the fair part of creation,
Who, they say, were designed for a blessing to man,
But have fallen long since from their station;
That though with the angels at one time they walked,
They have sunk from that glorious level,
That the Serpent would not in his object be balked
And that woman is now but a devil.
And in sooth of this railing, themselves are the cause—
For these charges are not without reasons—
For 'tis certain that woman has broken the laws
Of Nature and God, at all seasons;
Yet I've still a desire that cannot be restrained,
I trust that it smacks not of evil,
But if women are devils as has been maintained,
I would fain be "possessed of a devil."

NOBLE WORDS.—The following is an extract from a speech recently delivered in St. Louis, (Mo.), by Albert Pike. We commend it to the perusal of our Radical friends, who for lack of argument to bolster up a bad cause, are driven to the folly of indulging in misrepresentation of the sentiments of Democrats:

The man who says that we who are now designated as rebels do not intend in good faith to support the Constitution and labor for the preservation of the Union, tells you a falsehood. He lies in his teeth, and I have no hesitation in saying so. [Great cheers.] It is not the honorable Federal soldier who makes the charge, but the sneak who never saw the tented field, and who never dared to enter personally into the fight. [Cheers.] I desire to testify my appreciation of the kindness and magnanimity of the Federal soldiers, who, were it left to them to decide, would settle our difficulties at once justly and generously toward all. [Cheers.] I say it with pride that never since the close of the war have I been treated discourteously, never an unkind look, nor an unkind word from the open manly Federal soldier. They fought nobly, they fought successfully, and they know how to treat a brave and manly foe. And if you give confidence to the honest and courageous people of the South; if you take the bayonet from their throats, the padlocks from their lips; if you enfranchise them and trust them, I pledge you the word of a man, aye I pledge you the honor of my race, that we will in good faith discharge all the obligations imposed upon us by the constitution, all our duties under the Union.

GEORGE WILKES ON HORATIO SEYMOUR.—Wilkes, the sportsman, does not like either the politics or the personal habits of Mr. Seymour. In his Spirit of the Times, he says that Seymour is "a cold, blue-purring churchman, who is one of the orators of the Episcopal Synod, and who probably never drank a glass of generous wine in his life." On the other hand, he lauds Grant, who can "drink, smoke, talk horse, fight and swear, with equal facility." The Cincinnati Enquirer explains the position of Wilkes as follows: "Wilkes, it will be remembered, worked with Grant to procure the impeachment of President Johnson. Wilkes was on the floor of the Senate betting on impeachment, the Reverend Tilton holding the stakes. Grant was outside, declaring that unless the president was deposed, he, Grant, would be compelled to flee Washington. Wilkes lost his money, and Grant the general respect of the country. The sportsman hopes to recover his losses on impeachment by the success of Grant. It would be well for the country if his bad luck did not desert him."

THE WORLD.—"It's a very good world to live in—to lend, to spend, or to give in; but to beg, or to borrow, or to ask for one's own, it's the very worst world that ever was known."

THOSE who preach against sin and serve Satan are but very little better than those who denounce intemperance and go for Grant.

A Detective's Experience—A Touch of Romance.

"It was just before the war," said the detective, "that a queer trick was played me by a young fellow accused of forgery."

"How was it? Let me hear the story."

"Well, I have no objection, but don't interrupt me with questions."

The reporter promised silence, and the detective elevated his feet to the table and thus proceeded.

"The Chief called me into his office one morning, and told me that a check for $4,000 had been drawn by the confidential clerk of a well-known commercial house, and had been cashed at the bank where their funds were deposited. It was a forgery, and the clerk had left as soon as the money was obtained. His name was Henry Harding, his parents lived in one of the interior parishers, and it was supposed he had gone there before setting out elsewhere. I could only learn that he was very young and of rather effeminate appearance. This was all the description I could ascertain. The affair had not been blown abroad, and the Chief directed me 'to work up the case.' You know that S—— and I always worked together. I called him and we had a consultation. He prosecuted researches here while I went to the country. This arranged I was soon on my way. I had found out where the family of young Harding lived, and I had hoped to reach the house before night, but in this I was disappointed. Long before dusk, dark clouds began to form along the verge of the horizon and climb rapidly to the zenith. The thunder and lightning came at intervals, and I was soon assured that one of those semi-tropic storms, which are so frequent in the summer, would ere long burst upon me in its fury. I hastened forward, therefore, looking eagerly around for some place of shelter. I had proceeded but a little distance when I saw just before me a woodman's hut. I got into this as soon as possible. I had hardly got comfortably sheltered before a gentleman and lady dashed up to the door and dismounted. Like myself they were seeking shelter from the storm. The man was middle-aged, and exhibited in his person the strong athletic frame, the open brow, and genial, pleasant face of the Southern planter; but there was in his countenance now a touch of sadness, a seemingly exquisite sense of sorrow, strangely out of keeping with what the man should have been. His companion was a young girl of equisite beauty, with dark, soulful eyes, and hair black as night. She looked, indeed, a daughter of the tropics, and the tall, splendid form was regal in its majesty. She was such a woman as a man could wish to live for, and, if need be, die for. They were both in traveling costume, and, from their conversation, I judged they were father and daughter, just setting out on a journey, and endeavoring to reach the river in time for an up-going steamer. Shortly afrer their arrival a negro boy drove up in a cart containing trunks. On one of these was the name of 'Mrs. Harding, La.' You may readily conceive that my eyes were wide open, and my ears too. Here was something that I must needs observe. I walked out of the hut and went around to where the negro was standing. 'Boy, where's your young master?' I asked the question abruptly, looking the negro in the eye."

"'Golly, massa, dis chile dunno; hain't seen him for mos' a year.' My resolution was taken on the instant. I would follow these people. I was satisfied they were in search of Henry. He could not come to them, and th y were going to him. The whole matter was as clear as day. I did follow them to the river, where the daughter embarked on an upward-bound boat, and the father returned home. I took passage on the same steamer. I would not lose sight of the girl. I was satisfied she was going to her brother. I insinuated myself into her presence, and at last got into conversation. I was one-half in love with her already; before we reached St Louis I was wholly so. I learned that she was going to New York for some object she did not reveal. I thought I knew what the object was; but it had become of secondary importance now, for I was deeply, unmistakably in love. Had her brother stood before me, and she had asked me to forbear, it is doubtful if I would have arrested him. I could not exist out of her presence. She had become the one object necessary to my happiness. At last we reached New York. I could contain myself no longer. I sought an opportunity and told her my love—told my name, occupation and present object—I revealed everything; I only asked to share her affections. I would leave her until the next day. This was the forenoon of Monday—Tuesday afternoon I called for an answer. The servant who answered my summons informed me that the young lady had left the evening previous on a steamer for the West Indies; but she had left a note. I tore open the letter eagerly. It contained these words:

"'SIR—For your preference, I am much obliged; but the laws forbid gentlemen marrying each other. By the time this reaches you, I will be on board the West India steamer. Very respectfully,

"'HENRY HARDING.'

"It took no more to show what a trick had been played me. Yo may believe I have seldom told that love story."—[New Orleans Picayune.

AN EQUIVOCAL ANSWER.—A certain literary gentleman, wishing to be undisturbed one day, instructed his Irish servant to admit no one, and if any one inquired for him to give an "equivocal answer." Night came, and the gentleman proceeded to interrigate Pat as to his callers.

"Did any one call?"

"Yis, sur, wan gentleman."

"What did he say?"

"He axed was yer honor in."

"Well, what did you tell him?"

"Sure, I gev him a quivvikle answer jist."

"How was that?"

"I axed him was his grandmother a monkey!"

SMART SCHOLAR.—Teacher—"Come here you young scamp and get a sound spanking." Scholar—"You hain't got no right to spank me, and the copy you set ses so." Teacher—"I should like to hear you read that copy." Scholar (reads)—"Let all the evils thou aimest at be thy country's."

GOOD SPELLING.—A pious but illiterate deacon, in a certain town in Massachusetts, gave a stage-driver a slip of paper, upon which, he said, were written the names of a couple of books which he wished him to call for at a bookstore. The driver called at the store, and handing the memorandum to the clerk, said: "There is a couple of books which Deacon B. wished you to send him." The clerk, after a careful examination of the paper, was unable to make "head or tail" of it, and passed it to the bookkeeper who was supposed to know something of letters, but to him it was also "Greek." The proprietor was called and he also gave up in despair, and it was finally concluded to send the memorandum back to the deacon. It was supposed he must have sent the wrong paper. As the coach arrived at the village inn, the driver saw the deacon standing on the steps.

"Well, driver," said he, "did you get my books to-day?"

"Books! No! and a good reason why, for there couldn't a man in Worcester read your old hen-tracks."

"Couldn't read ritin? Let me see the paper."

The driver drew it from his pocket, and passed it to the deacon, who taking out and carefully adjusting his glasses, held the memorandum at arm's length and exclaimed, as he did so, in a very satisfied tone:

"Why, it's as plain as the nose on your face. 'To S-a-m B-u-x'—two psalm books! I guess his clerks had better go to school a quarter."

And here the deacon made some reflections upon the "ignorance of the times," and the want of attention to books by the "rising generation," which would have been very well if said by some one else.

ALL A SETTING.—Old farmer Gruff was one morning tugging away with all his might and main at a barrel of apples which he was endeavoring to get up the cellar stairs, and calling at the top of his voice for one of his boys to lend a helping hand, but in vain. When he had, after an indefinite amount of sweating, accomplished the task and just when they were not needed, of course, the boys made their appearance.

"Where have you been, and what have you been about, I'd like to know? couldn't you hear me call?" inquired the farmer in an angry tone, addressing the eldest.

"Out in the shop, setting the saw," replied the youth.

"And you, Dick?"

"Out in the barn, settin' the hen."

"And you, sir?"

"Up in granny's room, settin' the clock!"

"And you, young man?"

"Up garret, settin' the trap."

"And now, Master Frank, where were you settin'?" asked the old farmer of his youngest progeny, the asperity of his temper somewhat softened by this amsing catalogue of answers. "Come, let us hear?"

"On the door step, settin' still," replied the young hopeful, seriously.

"A remarkable set, I must confess," added the amused sire, dispersing the grinning group with a wave of his hand.

AN ABBREVIATION.—During the progress of the war, I was sitting one day in the office of Able & Co's wharf-boat at Cairo, Illinois. A sutler with a lot of stores had made out a hasty list of his stock and gave it to one of the youngest clerks on the boat to copy out in due form. The boy worked away, but suddenly electrified the whole office by exclaiming, in a voice of undisguised amasement:

"What the dickens is that fellow going to do with four boxes tom cats?"

An incredulous laugh from the other clerks was the reply; but the boy pointed triumphantly to the list, exclaiming:

"What is that?—t-o-m—c-s-t-s, tom cats—if I know how to read!"

The entrance of the sutler explained the mystery.

"Why confound it!" said he, "that means four boxes tomato catsup! don't you understand abbreviations?"

The roar which followed can be imagined.

QUITE RIGHT.—A comic paper of New York, just out, has a large picture representing a sea marked "filth," in which "Brick" Pomeroy is boldly swimming with the La Crosse Democrat under his arm. Behind him is Marble with the World, trying to keep up, with one hand to his nose as if suffocating. The design is one of the best we have seen for a year. We are now, and have for a long time been carrying the political fight into the camp of Republicans, and a nastier sea of filth a man never dared to enter. The doings of that party are unfit for publication—it is enough to stifle a man to hold up their rotten corruptions, but we are bound to fight them, even in their own parlors.—[La Crosse Democrat.

THERE is a Frenchman living in Marseilles, France, who enjoys the singular distinction of having outlived seven wives. A widow of our acquaintance boasts that if he'd marry her, he'd never outlive another wife.

COULDN'T THINK OF IT.—"Have I not offered you every advantage?" said a doting father to his son. "Oh, yes!" replied the youth, "but I could not think of taking advantage of my own father."

ONE of the pleasant ways they have in Texas is to publish notices of political barbecues, warning persons of the opposite party that if they appear on the ground they will be instantly shot.

A YOUNG LADY studying French, and finding that "belle" meant "fine," told somebody in a letter that we had a great deal of belle-weather lately.

AFTER the clergyman had united a happy pair, not long ago, an awful silence ensued, which was broken by an impatient youth exclaiming: "Don't be unspeskably happy!"

LEFT.—The man who minds his own business was in the city on Saturday, but left immediately, he felt so lonesome.

SOME men are like wagons, they rattle prodigiously when there is nothing at all in them.

BOOK-KEEPING taught in one lesson: Don't lend them.

Johnson to Seymour, Greeting.

The following well-timed dispatch was received by Gov. Seymour from President Johnson at Buffalo on the 23d inst:

"I see it announced in the papers this morning that you will enter the Presidential canvass in person. I trust this may be so, as the present position of public affairs justifies, even demands it. It is hoped and believed by your friends that all the enemies of Constitutional Government, whether secret or avowed, will not be spared; that their arbitrary and unjust usurpations, together with their wasteful, profligate and corrupt use of the people's treasure, will be exposed and rebuked. The mass of the people should be aroused and warned against the encroachment of the despotic power now ready to enter the very gates of the citadel. I trust you may speak with an inspired tongue, and that your voice may penetrate every just and patriotic heart throughout the land, that the living principles of a violated Constitution may be proclaimed and restored—that peace, prosperity and fraternal feeling may return to a divided and oppressed nation.

(Signed), A. Johnson."

The above breathes the true spirit of patriotic eloquence; and coming from a man who has endeared himself to all lovers of constitutional liberty, it must have cheered the heart of our gallant chieftain, and given him fresh courage for his onset upon Radicalism. Armed with such a distinguished endorsement, and having with him the prayers of the friends of law and order throughout the country, how can it be possible for the people to give their consent to the defeat of Seymour?

Seymour, Blair and Victory.

We stated, last week, that our standard bearers had no intention of withdrawing from the contest, the Radical telegraph to the contrary notwithstanding. Our readers see now that we were quite correct, and that the whole thing was but a trick of the enemy. Instead of withdrawing, the gallant Seymour has taken the stump, and is being received with that enthusiasm which is the sure presage of success. He is one of the finest and most convincing public speakers in the country, and his advocacy of our cause before the people will be the means of our gaining thousands of votes, enough probably to turn the scale in our favor. Instead of the party being panic stricken, as the enemy would make out, we are marching forward in close, compact ranks, with our chosen General at our head, who, with drawn sword, points out the road to victory. No "mum" leader is ours; but one who, having fixed principles, is able, and not afraid, to avow them before the assembled people.

One More Rally.

But a few days yet remain of the canvass; next Tuesday decides the great questions at issue between the parties. No time, not even a moment, can be lost now. Let those who have done no work for the cause, begin to work now; and let those who have worked, work still harder. Every Democrat in his precinct should constitute himself a committee of one, and see to it that every vote is cast that can be controled for our side. Johnson must have two thousand majority, and Yolo should see to it that she gives him her due proportion of this majority. Each one of us must so exert himself that he shall have no cause for self-reproach hereafter.

California Safe.—There is not a reasonable doubt but that the Golden State will prove true to her record of last year. The enemy concede us two thousand majority in San Francisco; Southern California will increase her Democratic vote; while in Northern California, we are sure of Tehama, Mendocino, Colusa, Siskiyou and Butte by good majorities; and in the central part of the State there will vote for us the counties of Yolo, Napa, Sonoma, Solano, El Dorado, Amador, Calaveras, Mariposa, Santa Clara, Stanislaus and Tuolumne. The State therefore, is safe beyond peradventure; but every Democrat must use his utmost exertion to make the majority as large as possible.

The Radicals make war the burden of their speeches and of their writings, but after they have been thoroughly thrashed on Tuesday next, as they surely will be, they will be glad enough to cry "peace!"

Radical Lies.

Let no one be deceived by the lies with which the Radicals are flooding the country. This is but the resource of desperate men. They well know that there is scarcely the shadow of a chance for them to carry California, and hence they hope to save themselves from ruin in this State, by trying to induce the belief that our friends in the East are demoralized, are panic stricken, and have given up the contest. So far from this being the case, they are more enthusiastic than they have been at any time during the canvass, and are determined to accomplish, if within human means, the election of Seymour and Blair. Many votes were rejected at the recent elections, which will be received on Tuesday; and so far as Indiana is concerned, we are confident of having beaten the Radicals on the Congressional vote, and hence believe that this State is sure for us. The gallant Seymour has taken the field, and in person will lead our hosts to victory or to the most honorable defeat that party ever suffered. California is certain to go for us, but every man must be in his place on Tuesday, prepared to do what in him lies for the success of the whole ticket.

The lies that have been put in circulation here are so transparent that even the blind could see through them; for instance, the ones that the National Intelligencer had declared for Grant, and that John Quincy Adams blurted out in public that nothing could save Seymour from defeat. Now, the character of the Intelligencer is a sufficient refutation of the first lie; and as for the second, does anybody believe Mr. Adams to be such a fool as to make declarations in public, only two weeks prior to the election, that could only result in serious damage to his own party, and in corresponding advantage to his political enemies? This gentleman is the nominee of the Democrats for the office of Governor of Massachusetts; at the last election, when he was likewise a candidate for this same office, he reduced considerably the standing Radical majority, and he feels, of course, an honorable pride in reducing this majority still more, and to believe that he would say anything in public which could not but have the result of decreasing his vote, is to believe that he is either a consumate fool, or a miserable traitor to his party. We know he is not the former, and we have not the slightest reason for believing him to be the latter. It is entirely safe for our friends not to believe anything sensational which has come from the Radicals the past two weeks. They will stick at nothing to carry this State, so far as falsehood is concerned. Those who read the newspapers know that they have frequently resorted to the petty meanness of dragging the names of private gentlemen into the public prints, declaring that they had deserted the Democracy and intended to support Grant. Before the lie could be refuted, it would be copied into a number of Radical journals, each one of which would take good care not to copy the indignant denial of the gentleman, whose privacy had been invaded and whose political principles had been so grossly misrepresented. Their stock in trade in this canvass, so far as our State is concerned, has been falsehood and bluster. But they will find, when the ballots are counted, that all has been in vain, and that the people have again rejected them; for as sure as the sun rises next Tuesday morning, so sure will California vote for Seymour and Blair.

Vote for Seymour!

Vote for Seymour, and a white man's Government!

Vote for Seymour, and Constitutional liberty!

Vote for Seymour, and a fraternal Union!

Vote for Seymour, and reduced taxation!

Vote for Seymour, and the purity of your race!

Vote for Seymour, and against military despotism!

Vote for Seymour, and against a consolidated Government!

Vote for Seymour, and against mongrelism and miscegenation!

Vote for Seymour, and against disunion!

Vote for Seymour, and against unbearable taxation!

Vote for Seymour, and against the bondholding shoddyites, who fatten while the country starves!

Vote for Seymour, Blair, the Constitution, and a re-united Country!

Can any one be so weak as to refuse to vote for Seymour because some rebel soldiers support him? Such an one, if a church member, would leave the sanctuary should a poor, despised sinner knock for admittance. If the Southerners wish to have a hand in restoring the Union, in God's name let them lend what aid they can. Are they not our own people; and can we have a fraternal Union without the cordial assent of all? It is in the eternal fitness of things that the Southern soldier should advance to meet his Northern antagonist, and vow before the altar of his country, that henceforth he will labor with him for the preservation of the Union; and the hand that would repel him is not only "full of all uncharitableness," but is a deadly enemy to the country.

Vote for Johnson.—James A. Johnson was a credit to the State as a Representative from this coast to the National Congress, and in voting for him the party honors itself as well as him. His opponent, Hartson, is a man of feeble capacity, who would be known in Washington only through his imbecility; a man of no ideas, and who could not give expression to any if he had them. Vote then to keep Hartson in that retirement from which a decent respect for his ability would never have prompted him to emerge.

Johnson's Letter to Ewing.

We have, in the telegraphic dispatches of the 25th, the synopsis of a highly important letter addressed by the President to Gen. Thomas Ewing—a letter which should be carefully read and pondered by every voter in the land. The figures, emanating as they do from the head of the Government, must be absolutely correct, and cannot for a moment be gainsayed or explained away by fustian orators or lying newspapers. The President says that the public debt in February, 1866, was $2,800,000,000, and that there has been expended during the three years last past the enormous amount of one thousand two hundred and forty-two millions of dollars. This great expense, he writes, is "demanded for a purpose, the accomplishment of which requires a large standing army, the perversion of the Constitution, and the subjugation of States to negro domination." He charges that the military establishment costs the country "not less than one hundred millions of dollars annually," that "retrenchment has become an absolute necessity, or bankruptcy will soon overtake us and involve the country in paralyzing results." In speaking of the debt, the President makes the profound observation, that "if permitted to become permanent and necessary, it must evidently be gathered into the hands of a few, and enable them to exert a dangerous and controlling power in the affairs of Government. The debtors would become servants of leaders; the creditors masters of the people." The President closes his letter by calling attention to the great fact that the contest is one for the preservation of the Constitution, for the maintenance of our liberty, and for the restoration of the Union. The Conservatives of the country have to thank Mr. Johnson for the vigorous blow which he has dealt to Radicalism in this letter, and for his noble conduct in coming to their aid in this their time of need. The President's figures are exact and he tells the country, the Black Republicans to the contrary notwithstanding, that the army costs one hundred millions a year. And for what? To break down that barrier between the races which nature herself has made, and which man cannot overthrow though he spend billions of dollars, and waste oceans of blood. No act of a legislature, no military despotism can turn a negro into a white man, or fit him for the high duties of citizenship. And yet, this is what Radical blindness and fanaticism is attempting to do, and what the people are asked to endorse at the coming election. Let others do what they will, but as for California, let it never be said of her, that she bowed down to the worship of such an unnatural, such a God-defying monstrosity.

Disfranchisement.—It is said by the Radicals that there is nothing like such sweeping disfranchisement of the whites as has been charged by Democrats. Let us examine some of the facts; and first, as to Tennessee. Before the war, 150,000 white men voted in that State. In 1867, at the Gubernatorial election, there were polled but 97,032 votes, and sixty thousand of these were negro votes. In Missouri, in 1860, there were polled a little more than 165,000 votes, while in 1866, this number was cut down to 103,000, leaving more than sixty-two thousand white voters disfranchised! In Louisiana, the registration for 1867 showed 84,431 negro, and 45,199 white voters, the former nearly doubling the latter; and in South Carolinia and Mississippi the case is nearly as bad. How, in the face of these solemn facts, then, can Radicalism be so impudently, so monstrously false in statement, as to deny the disfrancisement as charged by Democrats? As far as Missouri is concerned, the offence is monstrous beyond all power of exaggeration, for this State refused to pass an ordinance of secession, and remained in the Union while her Southern sisters were leaving all around her. And yet, every man within her borders, who cannot prove by an unconditional Union man that he did not sympathize with the rebels, is by law disfranchised. His oath to that effect will not do; for the superintendents of registration, in their instructions, make it incumbent upon him to prove this negative, and that not by a respectable householder, but by one who is known to them to have been an unconditional Union man—that is, by one of their own party. Is it possible for tyranny to go beyond this for malignancy? The inquisition itself could alone equal it. Just think of forcing a citizen to prove a negative, before being permitted to exercise his birthright of suffrage, and this proof to be furnished by one who has every motive to defraud him that the bitterest partizanship can create.

"Can such things be,
And overcome us like a summer's cloud
Without our special wonder?"

White men are not only disfranchised by the thousand, but this disfranchisement is accompanied with such conditions as to make every American blush for his country. If such outrages can stand, then will we be found drinking the very dregs of the meanest of despotisms.

Radical Extravagance.—According to Mr. Delmar's figures (and this gentleman stands at the head of the Bureau of Statistics), there were spent on the army for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1867, $95,000,000, and for 1868, $123,000,000. Now, why should the army cost more this year than it did last year? There has been no increase of it, nor has there been so much Indian fighting. But why should the army expenses be so great, at all? We know that this branch of the public service cost us but $90,000,000 for the whole four years of Mr. Polk's administration, and this, too, including the cost of the Mexican war. Surely, there is something monstrously wrong here; something that urgently demands the hand of correction.

To Whom It May Concern.

We, the undersigned residents of Yolo county, applicants and policy holders in the Continental Life Insurance Company of New York, do hereby proclaim and affirm, that a loan of ⅓ or 33⅓ per cent. of the annual premiums has been given us, with the express understanding that the annual dividends declared by said company, shall be applied to the cancellation of the same, being available after the payment of the third premium.

And, furthermore, that we believe said company did according to its statement declare a dividend to its policy holders of 40 per cent. on the 27th day of January, 1868, and a denial of the same by any person betrays a want of candor or lack of knowledge.

We are of the opinion the above statement, which has been occasioned by the publication of a card published in the Democrat and Yolo Mail, over the signature of J. N. Homans, Agent of the Mutual Company of New York, denying that the Continental did declare a dividend to the policy holders, will be perused by over forty other persons similarly interested, who will share equally in the displeasure thus incurred.

The unprincipled and pernicious practice resorted to by some agents of misrepresenting, and thus deceiving the public in regard to the merits of other companies in rivalry, is not tolerated by the officers of the Continental.

All their agents are reminded of the old adage, "Honesty is the best policy."

A CARD.

In a card issued by me and published in the Yolo county papers, I stated that the "Continental Insurance Company" had not declared a dividend to its policy-holders. As I could not find any mention made in the New York Insurance Report of their having declared a dividend, I thought that such was the case; but as they claim to have declared a dividend to their policy-holders since the New York Report was published, (December 31st, 1867) and I not having any proof to the contrary, will therefore now withdraw that part of my statement wherein I stated that they had not declared a dividend to policy-holders.

I will here state that it was not my intention or desire to misrepresent or traduce the "Continental," but to state what I considered a plain statement of facts; and further, that the General Agent of the "Continental" has acknowledged the balance of my statement in the card above mentioned to be correct and true.

J. N. HOMANS,
Agent Mutual Life Ins. Co.

REPLY.

J. N. Homans, Esq.—Dear Sir: The above is not true, nor was your card of previous date. You are either willfully wrong, or stupidly ignorant. I never "acknowledged the balance of your card as correct and true." You do, or should know, that five assertions there made are false, libelous, and if you consult your own interests you will so determine. The ground you have taken is wrong, and had you consulted the authorities you claim to, you must have known it. The people you are among will doubtless ascertain your true intent and award you all the merit you deserve. I have the documents at hand which will prove five of your statements incorrect, and the people of Yolo county can, from this fact, judge understandingly as to the correctness of the balance of your card. Respectfully, yours,

H. H. BLAKE.

Hays, Adam Stiner, C. Jackson, Wm. Hatcher, A. B. Manor, F. J. Barnes, E. R. Jackson, Jas. Hamilton, George Rawlston, D. Hays, R. C. Briggs, Geo. Hatcher, C. W. Hadley, Wm. Wagner, Wm. M. Jackson, P. T. Yount, D. Q. Adams, B. C. Vanzandt, A. J. Ogden, and others:

Gentlemen: The opinions you have formed and the belief expressed in your card "To whom it may concern," are correct. The Continental Life Insurance Company did declare a dividend of 40 per cent. to its policy-holders on the day you mention, and the same has been passed to their credit. Any one who has read our charter, or a copy of it in the New York Insurance Reports, must be aware of the fact that said charter compels us to so credit it every year. You may confidently expect 40 or 50 per cent. passed to their credit this coming January, and you will be duly advised of it by circular from me. The Continental is now two and one-half years old, and has issued 9,688 policies, insuring over $22,000,000. The honorable Company Mr. Homans represents, began business in 1843, and they had not accomplished as much in 1859, seventeen years. [See Mass. Report, 1859 and 1865, page 242.] Does this furnish a partial sequel to Mr. Homans' scandalous card? Is he afraid of the Continental? Does it look dubious a little ways ahead?

Allow me to assure you, gentlemen, I am not going into a newspaper controversy with any Company or individual. That is not the style of the Continental. Mr. Homans may wish to, and possibly is furnished with Company funds with which to carry it on; I am not, nor do I wish to be; the money it costs belongs to you, and if you feel that your interests are not properly cared for with us, or if you believe the statements made by Messrs. Bissell & Hall are not true, you can in the first instance demand of us a paid up policy, (after you have complied with the terms of the policy you now hold) without the loss of a dollar; or in the second case, you can apply to the home office, by letter or otherwise, for redress and explanation. But as for myself, I vouch for the statements as made by those gentlemen.

I consider the above explanation of facts due you, and they would have been given before, but I wished to give Mr. Homans an opportunity to retract his illy-chosen course; he having failed to do so satisfactorily to myself, truth and justice, the above is most respectfully submitted. Very cordially yours,

H. H. BLAKE,

A FEW SELECTIONS

From a Mass of Testimony now on File.

Newark, Licking Co., Ohio, August 19th, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gents: My wife having received so much benefit from the use of your Bitters, I deem it my duty to give testimony in their favor. About one and a half years since, she had a severe attack of Dysentery or Bloody Flux, which became chronic and continued for the above period of time, baffling the most skillful physicians in the country. We finally became discouraged, and gave up all hopes of her recovery, when, by accident my attention was called to your most valuable Bitters by Messrs. Collins & Thurston, druggists, handing me one of your Almanacs. Finding them recommended for Bloody Flux, I bought one bottle and commenced giving according to directions; and before one-third of the bottle had been taken she was entirely cured, and enjoys perfectly good health at this time.

Most respectfully yours, W. D. Nutter.

Branchville, Ala., March 11th, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa.—Dear Sirs: I am hardly able to express my gratitude for the benefit I have derived from the use of your Stomach Bitters. I have been afflicted with Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia for more than five years, from which I have suffered no little. My physicians failed to give me permanent relief. I became melancholy and unhappy; my constitution was much broken down by using mercury. Accidentally meeting with one of your Almanacs, it induced me to procure a few bottles of your Bitters, which afforded me very great relief, and it is my sincere opinion that they will soon effect a permanent cure. I was pronounced incurable, and my recovery through your Bitters will be little short of a miracle. My neighbors express surprise at seeing me so much improved in health, and look upon my rapid recovery as wonderful. Gratefully yours, Robert F. Newton, P. M.

Chenoa, Ill., Oct. 25, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gents: We have sold your Bitters for 16 years. We have found it to give universal satisfaction. We sell more of it than any other Bitters, and take pleasure in recommending it to the public.

Yours respectfully, Miller & Bostock.

Spraker's Basin, July 19th, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gents: I have been afflicted with Scrofulous and Bilious Complaints for a long time, and physicians could give me no relief. By the advice of your agent I purchased a bottle of your Stomach Bitters, and, strange to say, one bottle cured me entirely. I would recommend it to all who are afflicted in the same way. Respectfully yours,

Salmon Allen.

Salem, Ohio, May 1, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gents: I have prescribed your Bitters in a great number of csses of Dyspepsia, and as a Tonic in cases of general debility, and have found it to answer the most sanguine expectations. Respectfully,

S. D. Hardman, M. D.,
Formerly Physician to the Cincinnati Marine Hospital; Member of the London Medical Society of Observation, &c.

P. S.—I send you the above voluntarily, and you may use it as you desire.

Spraker's Basin, July 29th, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gents: For the past two years I have been afflicted with Chronic Disease and weak stomach. I have tried a great many medicines, but I have received no benefit. I was at last advised to try your celebrated Stomach Bitters, and to my great astonishment it has entirely relieved me. I have recommended it to others, and it has always given perfect satisfaction. Joel O'Brien.

The above writer is personally known to me, and I can vouch for the correctness of his statement. Henry Cohen,
Postmaster, Spraker's Basin.

Anderson C. H., S. C., April 22, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa.—Gents: About the 15th of December last, I had a severe attack of Rheumatism, which debilitated my frame so much that I was reduced to a mere skeleton. I was recommended by my cousin J. J. Baker, to try a bottle of your celebrated Bitters. I did so, and must confess that I am now in good health, and attribute it entirely to your Genuine Bitters. Very truly yours,

John Davis, jr.

Kenton, Hardin Co., Ohio, March 8, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gents: I have been using your Bitters for the last ten or twelve years, and confidently say they are all you recommend them to be. So necessary have I found them to my health that I cannot do without them. Yours respectfully,

Lewis A. Miller.

Turner, Androscoggin Co., Me., Feb. 22, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gents: I lost my health in the army, am a great sufferer from dyspepsia and other complaints. I have commenced taking your Bitters, and fully believe they have done me more good than all the medicines I have ever taken before. Yours respectfully, B. J. Hood.

Cincinnati, Jan. 16, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa.—Gents: I have sold your Bitters for the past ten years, part of the time in a malarious district of Mississippi. Have used them myself as a protective and cure for chills, and I have known many others to do so with perfect satisfaction. I take great pleasure in recommending "Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" to the public. Very respectfully, A. G. Parker,
Of Parker & Yorstman, cor. Center ave. and Chestnut street.

Helena, Montana Territory, July 6, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa.—Gents: We have sold your Bitters for three years in this Territory, and can truly say it is one of the most popular and valuable remedies. There is no one preparation that has a larger sale, or that gives more general satisfaction in this locality. Yours, &c.,

Parchen & Paynter, Druggists.

Virginia City, Montana Ter., July 6, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa.—Gents: I have been severely afflicted with Heartburn and Dyspepsia, and have tried almost all remedies, but without avail. Finally I was recommended to try your Stomach Bitters. I did so, and, after using a few bottles, was entirely restored to health. I now weigh 180 pounds.

I still continue to take your Bitters, and would not be without them. I consider them the only efficacious remedy of the kind in the market. When taken as directed, they will always prove a sovereign remedy to those afflicted with Dyspepsia or diseases of a like nature.

Respectfully yours, M. Marx.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gents—It is with the greatest pleasure that I recommend your Stomach Bitters to the public. I think it the best Bitters of the day. It is especially adapted to the South and West, where biliary derangements of the liver are prevalent. Ten years' experience in the use of compounds as curatives compels me to give your Bitters the preference that its popularity merits.

A. Angle, M. D.

Gallatia, Saline Co., Ill.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gentlemen—I have practiced medicine for many years, and have used your Bitters in a number of cases with great success, and take pleasure in recommending them to the public in general.

Very respectfully, J. Smith, M. D.

Mattoon, Ill., Jan. 21, 1865.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gentlemen—I sell more of your Stomach Bitters than of any other medicine. Parties who have tried them speak in very high praise of their excellent virtues. I have used them myself, and prescribe them with unparalleled success. Very respectfully yours, G. T. Gilner, M. D.

N. B.—The genuine Bitters are sold in bottles only. All persons who pretend to sell the article by the gallon or barrel are imposters, and the stuff they offer is a worthless and probably poisonous counterfeit.

TOWN AND COUNTY MATTERS.

DEATH OF A GOOD CITIZEN.—The dread messenger of death has again caused sorrow in our community. After a brief but painful illness, G. A. Fabricius, a well known citizen, died on Wednesday evening last. The announcement of the sad event filled the hearts of many warm friends with sorrow, who silently followed his remains yesterday to their last resting place in the cemetery. Modest and unassuming, yet gentlemanly and affable, the deceased bore the reputation of a conscientious, upright citizen. He was born in Amsterdam, Holland, in 1820, emigrated to the United States in 1848, and in the year following made his residence with his brother pioneers in California. At an early day he settled in Yolo county, and in 1863 was elected County Treasurer. He had been for a long time previous to his death a member in good standing of Woodland Lodge No. 156 F. & A. M., and at the time of his decease was Secretary of the Lodge. The funeral ceremonies were appropriately conducted by his Masonic brethren.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING.—The meeting called together on Wednesday evening last to hear those champions of Democracy, General W. T. Wallace and Hon. W. W. Pendegast, was a grand affair. The number present has been variously estimated at from one thousand to twelve hundred. Many ladies were in attendance. It is conceded by all present that the speeches of Wallace and Pendegast were far superior in argument and eloquence to any other political discussions heard here during the campaign. Before adjournment, Col. Slocum, of San Francisco, on being called to the stand, exhorted Democrats to be vigilant and active in the performance of their duty. The crowd then dispersed with cheers for the speakers, the cause and the candidates.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.—The County Superintendent of Common Schools has given notice of a Teachers' Institute to be held in this place, commencing on Thursday, November 19th, and continue three days. The opportunity thus afforded for a meeting of those in charge of schools, as well as all friends of education, will doubtless be the means of accomplishing much good; such, at least, has always been the result of similar discussions in the interests of that important subject. The State Superintendent will deliver an address during the session.

PROCESSION.—At a meeting of the Woodland Democratic Club on Thursday evening, it was resolved that the members accept the invitation extended them to join in the Democratic torch-light procession at Sacramento this evening. It is expected that delegations from every precinct in the county will participate, and no doubt Yolo will be well represented. Jason Watkins was elected Marshal for the Woodland Delegation. Democrats of this precinct who intend joining the procession, have been requested to meet at Heath's Hall to-day at 12 o'clock.

WHERE IS HARTSON?—We hear of him so seldom in the canvass, that our gallant Johnson seems to be walking over the course. Hartson's judgment, in some matters, is far greater than his ability; for what sense is there in his spending time and money in a hopeless contest? Johnson is making an able and a thorough canvass, and he feels confident of being returned to Congress by at least two thousand majority.

SOCIAL PARTY.—A very pleasant meeting of friends occurred at Baker's Hotel on Thursday evening. A most artistic “trip of the light fantastic toe” was indulged in, and excellent music by the Woodland Band was enjoyed by all present. There was a harmonious fusion of both political parties, for that occasion at least, and the best feeling prevailed.

NAMES ON THE GREAT REGISTER.—There are at present 2,850 names on the Great Register of Yolo county.

SEYMOUR'S ELECTION means PEACE, because it means that the people of the several States shall not be interfered with in the management of their domestic affairs; while Grant's election means WAR, because it necessitates a standing army to maintain the insolent supremacy of the negro; a thing that white men will not submit to without the compulsion of chains. Tax-payers, do you desire to have your pockets bled, in order to pay for manacles for your fellow white countrymen? If so, vote for Grant. Do you wish the ruin and anarchy of the South made perpetual? If so, vote for Grant. Do you wish to see a war of races, than which nothing on God's earth is more frightful? If so vote for Grant. But if you wish none of these things, but on the contrary, reduction of taxation, enfranchisement of your own race, and a restored country, you will on Tuesday next cast your ballot for that tried patriot and true statesman, Horatio Seymour.

DEMOCRATS, beware of spurious tickets! See to it that every name on your ticket is correct.

Go to the polls early and work for your country and the triumph of Democracy.

Be not deceived by the falsehoods of the enemy.

GRAIN.—Latest market reports from San Francisco quote wheat at $1 80 to $1 85, for shipping. Barley $2 20 to $2 35, for brewing, and $2 10 to $2 15, for feed.

THERE is no mistake about it, Plantation Bitters will ward off Fever and Ague and all kindred diseases, if used in time. No family need suffer from this distressing complaint if they will keep Plantation Bitters in the house, and use it according to directions. The most important ingredient of this medicine is Calisaya or Peruvian Bark, which is known to be the finest and purest tonic in the vegetable kingdom. The extract of this Bark is the active principle of all the good Fever and Ague Medicines prescribed by intelligent doctors. Calisaya Bark is used extensively in the manufacture of Plantation Bitters, and we dare say, owe their popularity mostly to that fact. We can recommend them. *

There are no stock-holders to get the largest share of its profits, as in the “Continental,” “North America,” “Manhattan,” and other credit Companies. Beware of part Note and Credits! See what the following Companies owe on (useless) Premium Notes: Continental, organized in 1866, $275,336 44; New England, organized in 1844, $1,843,497 84; North Western, organized in 1859, $625,292. Some of these Companies have lately assumed the grave and questionable responsibility of advertising under their officers' signatures that their notes or loans would be offset by dividends. (See Barnes' Report for 1868.) In order to cancel their notes by dividends, they would have to assess their Policy-holders from 40 to 77 per cent.

The Reasons for Insuring
—IN THE—
NEW ENGLAND MUTUAL
Life Insurance Company,
OF BOSTON.

By the Acts of Massachusetts, incorporated into the General Statutes of 1860 and 1864, a Policy of Life Insurance for the benefit of a Married Woman, or any person or persons specified, goes to them independently of the debts and liabilities of the party who effects the policy.

An Act to Regulate the Forfeiture of Policies of Life Insurance.

Be it Enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1.—No Policy of Insurance on Life, hereafter issued by any Company chartered by the authority of this Commonwealth, shall be forfeited or become void by the non-payment of premium thereon, any further than regards the right of the party insured therein to have it continued in force beyond a certain period, to be determined as follows, to-wit: The net value of the policy, when the premium becomes due and is not paid, shall be ascertained, according to the “combined experience” or “actuaries'” rate of mortality, with interest at four per cent. per annum. After deducting from such net value any indebtedness to the company or notes held by the company against the insured, which notes if given for premium shall then be canceled, four-fifths of what remains shall be considered as a net single premium of temporary insurance, and the term for which it will insure shall be determined according to the age of the party at the time of the lapse of the premium, and the assumptions of mortality and interest aforesaid.

SECTION 2.—If the death of the party occur within the term of temporary insurance covered by the value of the policy, as determined in the previous section, and if no condition of the insurance, other than the payment of premium shall have been violated by the insured, the company shall be bound to pay the amount of the policy the same as if there had been no lapse of premium, anything in the policy to the contrary notwithstanding: provided, however, that notice of the claim and proof of the death shall be submitted to the company within ninety days after decease; and provided, also, that the company shall have the right to deduct from the amount insured in the policy the amount at six per cent. per annum of the premiums that had been forborne at the time of the death.

YOLO COUNTY DEMOCRAT.

National Democratic Platform.

The Democratic party in National Convention assembled, reposing its trust in the intelligence, patriotism and discriminating justice of the people, stand upon the Constitution as the foundation and limitation of the powers of the Government, and the guarantee of the liberties of the citizen, and recognizing the questions of slavery and secession as having been settled for all time to come by the war, or the volunteer action of the Southern States in Constitutional Conventions assembled, and never to be resuscitated, do, with the return of peace, demand:

First—The immediate restoration of all States to their rights in the Union under the Constitution of civil government and the American people.

Second—Amnesty for all past political offenses and the regulation of the elective franchise in the States by their citizens.

Third—The payment of the public debt of the United States as rapidly as practicable, all money drawn from the people by taxation, except so much as is requisite for the necessities of the Government economically administered, being honestly applied to such payment, and when the obligations of the Government do not expressly state upon their face or the law under which they were issued does not provide that they shall be paid in coin, they ought in right and in justice to be paid in the lawful money of the United States.

Fourth—Equal taxation of every species of property, according to value, including Government bonds and other public securities.

Fifth—One currency for the Government and the people, the laborer and the officeholder, the pensioner and the soldier, the producer and the bond-holder.

Sixth—Economy in the administration of the Government, the reduction of the standing army and navy, the abolition of the Freedmen's Bureau, and all political instrumentalities designed to serve negro supremacy; simplification of the system, and discontinuance of inquisitorial modes of assessing and collecting internal revenue; that the burden of taxation be equalized and lessened; the credit of the country made good; all enactments for the enrolling of the State militia into national forces in time of peace, and a tariff for revenue upon foreign imports; and such equal taxation under the internal revenue laws as will afford incidental protection to domestic manufactures as will, without impairing the revenue, impose the least burden upon and best promote and encourage the great industrial interests of the country.

Seventh—Reform of abuses in the administration; the expulsion of corrupt men from office; the abrogation of useless offices, the restoration of rightful authority to the independence of the Executive and Judicial Departments of the Government; the subordination of military to the civil power, to the end that the usurpation of Congress and despotism of the sword may cease.

Eighth—Equal rights and protection for naturalized and native born citizens at home and abroad; the assertion of American nationality which will command the respect of foreign powers, furnish an example and encouragement to people struggling for national integrity, constitutional liberty and individual rights, and the maintenance of the rights of naturalized citizens against the absolute doctrine of immutable allegiance and the claims of foreign powers to punish them for alleged crime committed beyond their jurisdiction. In demanding these measures and reforms we arraign the radical party for its disregard of right and the unparalleled opposition and tyranny which have worked its career. After the most solemn and unanimous pledge of both Houses of Congress to prosecute the war exclusively for the maintenance of the Government and the preservation of the Union under the Constitution, it has repeatedly violated that most sacred pledge under which was rallied that noble volunteer army which carried our flag to victory. Instead of restoring the Union it has so far as it is in its power dissolved it and subjected ten States, in time of profound peace, to military despotism and negro suffrage. It has nullified there the right of trial by jury; it has abolished the habeas corpus, that most sacred writ of liberty; it has overthrown the freedom of speech and the press; it has substituted arbitrary seizures and arrests, and military trials and secret Star Chamber inquisitions for constitutional tribunals. It has disregarded in time of peace the right of the people to be free from search and seizures. It has entered the post and telegraph offices, and even the private rooms of individuals, and seized their private papers and letters, without any specification or notice of affidavit, as required by the organic law. It has converted the American Capitol into a bastile. It has established a system of spies and official espionage to which no constitutional monarchy of Europe would now dare to resort. It has abolished the right of appeal on important constitutional questions to the supreme and judicial tribunal, and threatens to curtail or destroy its original jurisdiction, which is irrevocably vested by the Constitution, while the learned Chief Justice has been subject to great and atrocious calumnies merely because he would not prostitute his high office to the support of the false and partisan charges preferred against the President. Its corruption and extravagance have exceeded anything known in history, and by its frauds and monopolies it has nearly doubled the burden of the debt created during the war. It has stripped the President of his constitutional power of appointment, even of his own Cabinet. Under its repeated assaults the pillars of the Government are rocking on their base, and should it succeed in November next, and inaugurate its President, we will meet as a subjected and conquered people amid the ruins of liberty and the scattered fragments of the Constitution. And we do declare and resolve that ever since the people of the United States threw off all subjection to the British Crown, the privilege and trust of suffrage have belonged to the several States, and have been granted, regulated and controlled exclusively by the political power of each State respectively, and any attempt by Congress, on any pretext whatever, to deprive any State of this right, or interfere with this exercise, is a flagrant usurpation of power which can find no warrant in the Constitution, and if sanctioned by the people will subvert our form of Government, and can only end in a single centralized, consolidated government, in which the separate existence of the States will be absorbed, and an unqualified despotism be established in place of a Federal Union of co-equal States, and that we regard the reconstruction acts of Congress such usurpations, and unconstitutional, revolutionary and void.

That our soldiers and sailors, who carried the flag of our country to victory against a most gallant and determined foe, must be ever gratefully remembered, and all the guarantees given in their favor must be faithfully carried into execution.

That the public lands should be distributed as widely among the people and should be disposed of either under the pre-emption of homestead lands, and sold in reasonable quantities, and to none but actual occupants, at the minimum price established by the Government. When grants of the public lands may be allowed necessary for the encouragement of important public improvements, the proceeds of such lands, and not the lands themselves, should be applied.

That the President of the United States, Andrew Johnson, exercising the power of his office in restricting the aggression of Congress on the constitutional rights of the States and the people, is entitled to the gratitude of the whole American people, and on behalf of the Democratic party we tender him our thanks for his patriotic efforts in that regard.

Upon this platform the Democratic party appeal to every patriot, including all the conservative elements, and all who desire to support the Constitution and restore the Union, forgetting all past differences of opinion, to unite with us in the present great struggle for the liberties of the people; and that to all such, to whatever party they may have heretofore belonged, we extend the right hand of fellowship, and hail all such as friends and brothers.

THE NEW

WEED

SEWING MACHINE!

Just completed, in SOLID STEEL MACHINERY, and combining in ONE the good of ALL!

This most enterprising Company has certainly brought out

THE BEST SEWING MACHINE EVER MADE!

And indeed is the ONLY NEW Sewing Machine, of any name, manufactured for the last eight years. Even a superficial observer can easily see that it surpasses all others, at least in the simplicity and durability of its machinery, and its remarkable

EASE OF MOTION AND MANAGEMENT.

It has few pieces, and all of steel. It makes the complete "Lock Stitch," the same on both sides, which will not ravel. Every Machine is warranted to sew from Thinest Lace, to Double Harness Leather!

and of course can never be got out of order by "hard sewing." ☞ All repairs free of charge. Prices same as others.

PLEASE NOTICE.

The claims of the Florence Company for the First Premium at the great Paris Exposition of 1867, though seeming true in letter, is really false in spirit and intent, and calculated greatly to deceive the public. Although it did receive the Silver Medal—that being the highest award given—it was not awarded the FIRST RANK! This was awarded the Weed Sewing Machine, and to the WEED only, as being "first in the order of merit." The second place was given to an European Machine, and only the third to the Florence! But the claim of the Wheeler & Wilson Company, at this Fair, is a great outrage, both as to letter and spirit; at least so much of it as pertains to their Gold Medal upon their Family Machine, which, to speak plain, is purely imaginary, they having received—as is well known—their Gold Medal on their "Button-hole Machine," but nothing at all on their "Family Machine;" not even a bronze medal, nor indeed (what is worse) even an "honorable mention." (See official report.) See also, as to the new WEED Sewing Machine, the returns of the State Fairs of Pennsylvania, Illinois, New Hampshire and New York, for 1867, at each of which the NEW WEED "F. F." Sewing Machine was pronounced the BEST, and received the highest premium given. And so also at other Fairs, and indeed wherever the Company shall choose to exhibit the "strong points" of this really magnificent Machine.

HELMBOLD'S BUCHU.

The only Known Remedy

— FOR —

Diabetes, Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder, Inflamation of the Kidneys, Catarrh of the Bladder, &c., &c., &c.

For these diseases, it is truly a sovereign remedy, and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms. Are you troubled with that disgusting pain in the small of the back and through the hips? A teaspoonful a day of Helmbold's Buchu will relieve you.

Physicians and Others

PLEASE NOTICE.

I make no secret of ingredients. Helmbold's Extract Buchu is composed of Buchu, Cubebs and Juniper Berries, selected with care, prepared in vacuo and according to the rules of Pharmacy and Chemistry.

These ingredients are known as the most valuable Diuretics afforded. A Diuretic is that which acts upon the Kidneys. Helmbold's Extract Buchu acts gently. It is pleasant in taste and odor, free from all injurious properties, and immediate in its action. For the satisfaction of all, see Medical Properties contained in Dispensatory of the United States, of which the following is a correct copy:

"BUCHU. Its odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic, its taste bitterish, and analogous to that of mint. It is given chiefly in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, chronic catarrh of the Bladder, morbid irritation of the Bladder and Urethe, diseases of the Prostrate, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. It has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, chronic Rheumatism, cutaneous affections and Dropsy."

For further information see Professor Dewees' valuable works on the Practice of Physic. See remarks made by the celebrated Dr. Physic, of Philadelphia. See any and all standard works on Medicine.

Dr. Keyser is a physician of over thirty years' experience, and a graduate of the Jefferson Medical college and of the University of Medicine and Surgery of Philadelphia:

Mr. H. T. HELMBOLD—Dear Sir: In regard to the question asked me as to my opinion about Buchu, I would say that I have used and sold the article in various forms for the past thirty years. I do not think there is any form or preparation of it I have not used or known to be used, in the various diseases where such medicate agent would be indicated. You are aware, as well as myself, that it has been extensively employed in the various diseases of the bladder and kidneys; and the reputation it has acquired, in my judgment, is warranted by the facts. I have seen and used, as before stated, every form of Buchu—the powdered leaves, the simple decoction, tincture fluid extracts; and I am not cognizant of any preparation of that plant at all equal to yours. Eighteen years' experience ought, I think, to give me the right to judge of its merits, and without prejudice or partiality I give yours precedence over all others. I value your Buchu for its effects on patients. I have cured with it, and seen cured with it, more diseases of the bladder and kidneys than I have ever seen cured with any other Buchu, or any other proprietory compound of whatever name. Respectfully yours, etc.,

GEO. H. KEYSER, M. D., 140 Wood st.
Pittsburg, Pa., August 11, 1865.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU.

FROM THE LARGEST MANUFACTURING CHEMIST IN THE WORLD.

I am acquainted with H. T. Helmbold; he occupies the drug store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise. WM. WEIGHTMAN, (firm of Powers & Weightman), Manufacturing chemists, Ninth and Brown streets, Phila.

The proprietor has been induced to make this statement from the fact that his remedies, although advertised, are genuine preparations, and knowing that the intelligent refrain from using anything pertaining to Quackery, or the Patent Medicine order—most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, who are too ignorant to read a physicians' simplest prescription, much less competent to prepare Pharmaceutical preparations. These parties resort to various means of effecting sales, such as copying parts of advertisements of popular remedies and finishing with certificates. The science of medicine stands simple, pure and majestic, having fact for its basis, induction for its pillar, truth alone for its capital.

A Word of Caution.

Health is most important; and the afflicted should not use an advertised medicine, or any remedy, unless its contents or ingredients are known to others besides the manufacturer, or until they are satisfied of the qualifications of the party so offering.
